

The Great Pottery Throw Down

The Great Pottery Throw Down is back and we're looking for potters to take part in the second series...

Do you live and breathe pottery?

Perhaps you aspire to become a full-time professional? Or, are you looking to take the next step up in your pottery practice?

Maybe you simply want to show the nation your work!

We're scouring the country for experienced amateurs to early career potters, who want to share their passion with the nation!

In this talent search for BBC Two, your entire repertoire of skills will be put the test! So if you think you've got what it takes we would LOVE to hear from you!

Download our application form at:
